Mr. Henry A. Blumenthal

New York City.

Dear Sir:-

I have your letter of February 16th asking for information regarding James L. Rogers, who has applied to you for a position.

Rogers was employed by the Society for over two years, his duties being, to attend the door, run errands and make himself useful in any way required. He left here to take a position which he considered more advantageous. I found him honest, willing and obliging, and was rather sorry to loose him. As regards his business ability, I might say he had no difficulty in performing the very simple duties that were required of him here. Of course how he would get along in a position of more responsibility, is something that I can hardly say.

Very truly yours,

Director.
